

CONTENTS

I.	INTRODUCTION	1
	Background of the Study	1
	Basic Concepts	3
	The Research Approach and Method	6
	Research Objectives and the Structure of the Discussion	11
II.	A CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK FOR THE STUDY OF SUPPRESSED DISCOURSE IN SOCIAL INQUIRY	14
	Introduction	14
	Ontological Presuppositions	19
	Epistemological Presuppositions	28
	Methodological Presuppositions	37
	Implications of Social Inquiry and Finalization of Discourse	41
	Conclusions	48
III.	AN ANALYSIS OF SOCIAL SCIENCE APPROACHES TO PUBLIC POLICY EVALUATION	52
	Introduction	52
	Approaches to the Evaluation of the Legality of Public Policies	55
	Approaches to the Evaluation of Accounting and Auditing of Public Policies	63
	A Contingency Approach to the Evaluation of Organizational Arrangements in Public Policy Implementation	71

Cost-Benefit Analysis as an Approach to the Evaluation of the Efficiency of Public Policy Implementation	78
Proving the Effectiveness of Public Policies: A Causal Modeling Approach	89
Conclusions	97
 IV. A CASE ANALYSIS OF GOVERNMENT AUDITING AS PRACTICAL PUBLIC POLICY EVALUATION	100
Introduction	100
Data and Research Techniques for the Analysis of the Office's Discourse as "Pseudo-Nature" .	108
The Nature of the Referential and Auto- communicative Discourses of the Office . .	113
The Office's Communicative Discourse: A Factor Analysis and Its Interpretation	116
Presuppositions, Implications and Finalization of the Office's Communicative Discourse . .	126
Localization of the Office's Communicative Discourse	143
On Parallel Evaluative Discourses of the Office's Communicative Discourse and Their Complementary or Substituting Effects . .	148
Political, Parapolitical and Bureaucratic Establishments, Their Sectorial Links, and the Office's Communicative Discourse . . .	151
Conclusions	157
 V. EPILOGUE	171
 REFERENCES	176
 BIBLIOGRAPHY	187